

EX-GOVERNORS TO GET W.V.U. DEGREES

One Woman Among Those Who Will Be Honored at Morgantown.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 16.—Every living ex-governor of West Virginia and a number of other prominent native sons and daughters will receive honorary degrees this week as a part of the semi-centennial celebration at West Virginia University. One woman is included in the honored list. The list of fourteen persons, all born in this state who are to receive such degrees was recently made public by the Board of Regents. The list follows:

Ex-Governor George Wesley Atkinson, Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, James Frederick Brown, the Charlestonian; John William Davis, ambassador to England; ex-Governor Arthur Brown Fleming, ex-Governor William E. Glascock, ex-Governor Henry D. Hatfield, Bishop Matthew Simpson Hughes, ex-Governor William A. MacCorkle, Earl William McDay, called "West Virginia's most useful citizen" by the West Virginia Panama-Pacific Exposition committee; Livia Simpson Polfenbarger, leader of the Equal Suffrage movement in West Virginia; ex-Governor Albert B. White, Dr. L. C. White, state geologist; Daniel Willard, former president of the B. & O. railroad.

The names of the two other men, who have since died, Judge John W. Mason, of Fairmont, and Dr. George B. Foster, Chicago University, of the class of 1888, were on the original list. In their case, the degrees will be conferred as of 1917, when it was originally planned to confer them.

REV. F. L. TATE'S NERVE FORCE NOT EQUAL TO TASK

But He Soon Built It Up to the Needed Power by Using Nerv-Worth.

This well known colored minister, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church at Dayton, O., has derived extraordinary benefits from a single bottle of Nerv-Worth and he tells the story most eloquently to Dayton's Nerv-Worth druggist:

Jenkins Drug Store.—For five years I have been in a very nervous condition. Did not have the nerve force to digest my food. I could only eat a few things. Doctors told me not to eat any cold lunches. My stomach and digestion were in a very bad condition. Gas formed on my stomach and caused terrible flatulency. My blood was in a very bad condition and my circulation was poor. My legs were cold and a numb feeling in them and my hands. Could not obtain any relief from my nervous breakdown until I took one bottle of Nerv-Worth and that changed everything. I am nervous no more. Can eat anything any time, no bloating and stomach and digestion in the condition. Good circulation in my blood. No numbness and cold feeling in my legs and hands. I am now feeling fine and have regained my health and vigor.
